NEW ORDER PLANNED; CUBAN OFFER IS MADE

PROGRAM CALLS FOR FOUR-POINT ECONOMIC MOVE

Sugar Production Quota Is Provided For In
U. S. Proposal

INCLUDES REFINANCING

Land Development and Reciprocal Tariff Are Other Phases

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Outlines of the state department's program for a new order in Cuba became known Friday as President Roosevelt silently waited for an early response to his declaration of an end to political warfare on the island.

It was learned that a program providing for a sugar production quota, a complete reorganization of the external and internal debt of the country on a lower basis, a new deal for land development and reciprocal tariff is nearing completion.

The state department and friends of Cuba in the United States have been negotiating the plans for the past four months.

While Mr. Roosevelt is maintaining the strictest silence awaiting developments in the Cuban crisis, very obviously the Cuban new deal program is what he wants to establish in behalf of the island as soon as the disorders end.

There was no amplification Friday at the summer White House on the message given by the president to Ambassador Cintas to relay to President Machado. Some reports express a belief that the president has invited Machado to this country. It would be a way to assure the Cuban head of state in return for withdrawal, but neither the president nor his aides would confirm such a proposal.

The proposed sugar quota has reached the stage of fixing the figure. A limit of 1,750,000 tons of sugar which could be shipped to the United States has been mentioned but the state department is looking favorably upon a higher allotment.

The sugar restriction plan is to apply to the whole region, including other producing countries such as Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines.

It would apply the same system of controlled production, and consumption as the president is seeking in this country on wheat and cotton.

The financial situation as a factor in the island disturbance is discussed by officials. There is not much sign of interference by the big creditors who have invested heavily in Cuba.

However, the state department program does contemplate a sweeping revision of the Cuban debt in the interest of reducing taxes. Another factor is a decentralization of land owning. Apparently in recent years there has been a tendency in the island for the small plantations owners to sell out and go to the villages.

It is understood that Mexico, another of the sugar consuming countries, is cooperating fully in the regional sugar plan which has as its big purpose the stabilization of this great money crop of neighboring islands.

Ready to Return
To U. S. Capital

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt packed his bags for the return to Washington Friday, ready to act to end the Cuban political turmoil by whatever means developments may necessitate.

In close touch with Washington and Havana he was determined to bring political peace to the island republic and, to all outward appearances, he expected an early showdown.

Economic Death Seen for NRA Violators

DISCUSSING CRIME CAMPAIGN

A series of conferences called by Raymond Moley to seek ways of unifying federal and state activities opened the government's anti-crime campaign. Moley (right), appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the crime situation, started his new duties by conferring at the state department with Joseph E. FEDERAL AGENTS SEEKING 4TH MAN IN URSCHEL CASE

Grand Jury Is Convened to Hear Hamm Kidnap Witnesses

ST. PAUL, Aug. 11.—(AP)—New kidnap trails stretched before department of justice operatives Friday in the Urschel abduction case in the United States government neared a climax in another kidnapping—that of William Hamm, Jr., millionaire St. Paul brewer.

A special federal grand jury was ordered convened Friday morning to hear witnesses in the Hamm case involving the right leg above the ankle, a fracture of the left leg, fracture of the skull, possible laceration of the brain and general bruises and contusions. The brain injury and shock made his recovery doubtful, but he was reported Friday to be getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Following the fall, Littlepage was brought to Monroe in an ambulance. Littlepage and several other workmen were engaged in drilling a well at well at Riverton. They were said to be employed by a man named Hartley, who came here some time ago from Missouri to carry on wild-cat drilling operations.

They sought, it was understood, a former cigar store and cafe owner of Minneapolis who, when in business, operated books on horse races and baseball games. This unidentified man, it was hoped, would supply the missing link between the three men in custody in St. Paul and the actual kidnappers of Urschel.

Werner Hanni, chief of the bureau of investigation for this district, refused to comment on the reported development beyond admitting "we are making progress." Attorneys for two of the men held conferred with Hanni late Thursday.

Afterward, it was reported one of the trio changed his story as to how he obtained the marked ransom money, which was part of that paid for Urschel's freedom, and the hunt for the Minneapolis cigar store owner was started. About a dozen more persons were being sought.

J. S. LITTLEPAGE CRITICALLY HURT

Driller's Skull Is Fractured In 37-Foot Fall
at Riverton

J. S. Littlepage, 37, living at Riverton, was in a critical condition at St. Francis sanitarium Friday as a result of injuries received when he fell 37 feet as a derrick scaffold on which he was working collapsed Thursday. It was stated he dropped to the ground with nothing to break the force of the fall.

The man's physician said his injuries consisted of a compound fracture of the right leg above the ankle, a fracture of the left leg, fracture of the skull, possible laceration of the brain and general bruises and contusions. The brain injury and shock made his recovery doubtful, but he was reported Friday to be getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

EFFORTS EXERTED TOWARD SETTLING ROW ABOUT UNION

NRA Brings An End to Discords Involving
100,000 Workers

SOME ARE STUBBORN

Non-Unionists Hold Out
For Their Company
Organizations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Armed over allowing wage differentials between north and south coal fields dominated Friday's session of the NRA hearings on the proposed codes for the bituminous industry, while elsewhere it was evident that officials would overrule efforts to get recognition for the "open shop" principle in the final code.

Unless the bituminous people themselves withdraw their "open shop" section, Administrator Johnson indicated to reporters he would see to its demise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(UPI)—The national recovery administration, already the medium of settling strikes involving nearly 100,000 workers, continued its arbitration efforts Friday and moved toward an inevitable showdown on the question of unionism in the bituminous coal industry.

Leaders in the non-union section stood by their refusal to withdraw company union provisions from their code of fair competition during the hearings now in progress.

Officials of the NRA went forward with consideration of other codes proposed for the coal industry, but a return to the controversial issue of the methods by which the collective bargaining features of the recovery act shall be carried on was regarded as only a matter of time.

The national labor board, created by President Roosevelt after Administrator Hugh S. Johnson took over mediation of the Pennsylvania coal strike last week, settled in three hours Thursday a strike involving 14,000 hosiery workers in 33 mills in Reading, Pa.

A board arranged hearings Friday on a shirt factory strike at Potsville, Pa., and was expected to act next in the Hollywood movie strike.

The forceful and energetic Johnson addressed a mass meeting in Baltimore Thursday night with a plea to "buy now under the blue eagle."

"To support increased wages there must be increased business," he said. "To get increased business there must be increased buying. Failure to support blue eagle employers is failure to support increased wages and re-employment."

"The doubting Thomases—the witch doctors of the 'let things alone' school of economic thought, call this a boycott. It is nothing of the sort. It is a white list if you like. Nobody is prevented from assuming the insignia of those who are aiding re-employment."

In typical Johnson fashion he attacked the economic situation of America.

"So far as one can see just riding through the country there is nothing much the matter with this land of ours," he said, "until we get to the

100 MEN ADDED AT PAPER MILL

Three Shifts Work As Recovery Code Is Put Into Effect

In conforming to the national recovery code, Brown Paper mill has employed approximately 100 additional workers and will add a considerable number of others to its force as necessity requires and as soon as adjustments can be put into effect, it was announced Friday.

Officials of the paper mill signed the recovery code a number of days ago. In meeting the requirements of the code the mill is now working its employees not more than 40 hours a week. This means that most of the employees work eight hours a day five days a week. The mill is operating 24 hours a day, which means that three shifts of workmen are employed.

Before each workman starts working for the firm he is given a physical examination by the company physician. It was stated that within the last few days 93 men have been examined and that others will be added to the list within the next few days. As a major industry of this section, the paper mill is believed to have added more men than any other single industry since the recovery act was put into effect.

JOHNSON WARNS AGAINST MISUSE OF BLUE EAGLE

General Says Employers Must Obey Rules to Use Insignia

UTILITIES MENTIONED

Administrator to Use
Conciliation First, Then
Bludgeon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A flat prediction that a case of revocation of the "Blue Eagle," emblematic of compliance with the national recovery administration, will arise and that it will mean "economic death" to the offender was made Friday by Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator.

At his press conference, Johnson promised that violators of modified presidential reemployment agreements would be disciplined if it were found that they were not complying with their pledge to raise wages and increase employment by shortening work hours.

He added, however, that he intended to let the situation rest for a brief period in the hands of local committees.

"But the time is coming," Johnson said, "when somebody is going to take one of these blue eagles off of someone's window in a clear cut case."

"And that is going to be a sentence of economic death," the administrator added sternly, leveling his finger at the newspapermen gathered before him.

Questioned concerning the status of intrastate utilities and similar businesses, Johnson said that while they might not be within the regulative power of the national recovery act, the blue eagle would reach them.

He pointed out that the possibility of strictly intrastate operations being beyond control is one of the reasons "for this blue eagle business."

"This blue eagle doesn't know anything about intrastate and interstate commerce," the administrator said, "and I think it's working out pretty well."

Commenting on his visit to Baltimore for an address Thursday night, he said that unemployment figures and the number of blue eagles on the windows there did not appear to be in conformity but that the recovery administration's advisors there had expressed satisfaction that the problem was working out all right.

The administrator repeated that it was not intended to set up a police organization within the recovery act.

AMERICAN FLIER SETS NEW MARK

Milo G. Burcham Takes Inverted Flying Record From Italian

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A Yankee boy who practiced his stunt in an old kitchen chair has relieved Lieut. Tito Falconi, Italian Royal Air Force officer, of his upside-down flying record.

Milo G. Burcham flew head down Thursday for an hour, 46 minutes, 59 seconds, from San Diego to Los Angeles. He lowered the record by 29 minutes, 59 seconds. Falconi announced he would attempt to regain his honors Friday, taking up sufficient fuel for four hours flying.

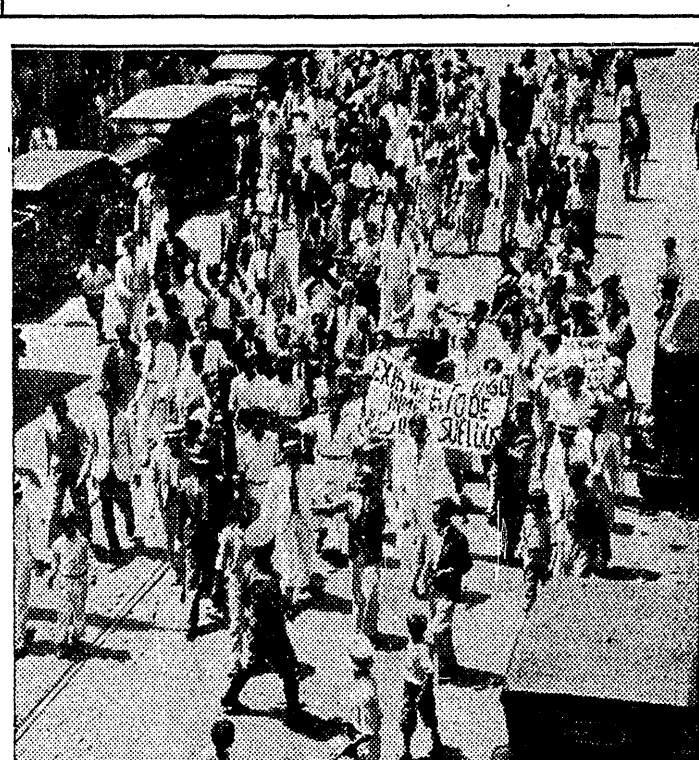

Weeks ago Burcham, 30 years old and the head of a Long Beach, Calif., aviation school, began looking at the Italian's mark for inverted flight with determination. With a kitchen chair to "sit" on, he began suspending himself from a beam wrong end to for short periods. Gradually he lengthened the intervals in the chair. Talking to the air meant he was how he worked out in actual flight.

"The first five minutes were the hardest," remarked Burcham after he had righted his small biplane, landed and received the congratulations of the Italian air force officer. "You get a dull ache over your eyes at first, but it doesn't get any worse. My legs got tired, straining against my safety belt, and the leaking oil bothered me a little."

Tennessee's Repeal Vote

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Tennessee's vote in favor of erasing prohibition from the federal constitution was formally cast Friday at a convention of delegates elected July 20 when the state gave a majority of approximately 6,800 for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

CUBAN STRIKE DEMONSTRATION

SUGAR MARKETING AGREEMENT SAID BAD AS TO QUOTA

Proposed Accord Is Denounced By Cuban Representative

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Pointing to "turmoil in Cuba" and attributing it largely to economic distress, Thomas L. Chadbourne of New York Friday denounced the proposed sugar marketing agreement as unworkable and opposed to President Roosevelt's principle of trade promotion and good will in Latin America.

Chadbourne, representing Cuban sugar interests at the hearings, made it clear that his principal objection to the agreement drafted under the agricultural adjustment act was that the quota proposed for Cuba was too low.

He said it would react unfavorably especially on Cuba and adversely affect American relations in Latin America.

"Turmoil reigns in Cuba," Chadbourne said, "we know that fundamentally it is based on economic distress enduring through six awful years. President Roosevelt had no hand in creating that distress. He inherited the Cuban difficulties from his Republican predecessor and he favors ameliorating their condition by securing, if our national legislature will grant it, an increased preferential in our sugar duty."

"Most of our previous meetings have been before the tariff commission and ways and means committee of the house or the senate finance committee," Chadbourne said, "in an undignified scramble for a higher tariff, the benefits of which were supposed to go to but never did go, to the American farmer and laborer."

"The first noteworthy difference between those meetings and this one is that all the former were openly and avowedly attempts to make Cuba's lot in the American sugar scheme more difficult, while this conference, under the guise of governmental in-

NIGHTMARE TERM APPLIED TO LIFE IN HAVANA, CUBA

American Woman Writes Letter to Sister In Spartanburg

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Life in Cuba now is described as a nightmare with citizens in terror and people starving in the streets of Havana in a letter from Miss Gillie Howell, formerly of Spartanburg to her sister, Miss Mattie Hoyce Howell, high school teacher here.

Miss Howell went to Cuba in 1920 as private secretary to General Enoch Crowder, sent there to supervise the national election. When he returned to the states, she remained and is now secretary-treasurer of the Manuel A. Saurezy Cia, wholesale tobacco dealers.

Her letter, dated August 7, said in part: "Well, the last few days have been nightmares here in Cuba—a two fold one for me. As you know we have been having a strike here for over a week and it has been growing bigger. Until now there is no food—no stores open—no street cars—no automobiles—lights on every street corner—private cars are turned over—no gasoline sold—no mail delivery—the most awful experiences."

"Early Friday morning as I was

MORE FORGERIES FOUND IN KANSAS

Bond Inquiry Centers In Office of State Auditor
French

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Attention of investigators in the Kansas bond forgery case was drawn Friday toward the office of Will J. French, state auditor, who disclosed a copy of a transcript of one of the forged issues of bonds was missing from his files.

This climaxed another day of investigation which brought to light additional forgeries, bringing the total to $799,000, and followed a call by Gov. Alf M. Landon for a conference of all state and federal officers working on the case at 10 a. m. Friday.

Following a check in his office, the auditor said that in addition to the missing transcript, he found that another had been loaned to Ronald Finney, bond broker, charged with uttering $20,000 in spurious bonds to a Topeka bank. He said he was unable to make out the name of the person who receipted for the transcript.

French said bond men and attorneys had access to the vault in his office for the purpose of examining transcripts.

One of Finney's employees, Leland Caldwell, has been arrested on a charge similar to that of the broker. Three state banks and a building and loan association have been closed and National Guardsmen maintain a 24-hour watch over the vault in the state treasurer's office where one set of the forged bonds were found to have been left as security for state deposits in banks.

LIBERAL PARTY PRESENTS PLAN TO U. S. ENVOY

Proposal Suggests That Alberto Herrera Succeed Machado

DECISION IS REVERSED

Summer Welles Was Condemned Thursday As Inter-Meddler

HAVANA, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Members of the executive committee of President Gerardo Machado's own Liberal party said Friday that the government had submitted to United States Ambassador Summer Welles a counter-proposal by which the president would surrender his office to General Alberto Herrera, the present secretary of war.

The Popular and the Conservative parties already have demanded that the president step down, and now his own political organization has come forward with a plan accomplishing the same object.

The action of the Liberals in part reversed their decision Thursday when they held that Ambassador Welles was guilty of "inter-meddling" and that his mediation activities were prejudicial to the sovereignty of Cuba.

Ramon de Leon and a number of members of the Liberal executive committee gave confirmation that the counter proposal had been submitted.

Members of the opposition to the present administration favor the eventual succession to the presidency of Manuel de Cespedes, one of Cuba's best-known diplomats who served as minister to the United States from 1914 to 1922 and subsequently as secretary of state. He is a son of the leader who launched Cuba's ten year war for freedom in 1895 and subsequently became the president of the first revolutionary government.

The counter-proposal of the Machado government came at a time when the general strike which has held Cuba in its grip for days was fast approaching a full-fledged revolutionary movement.

In Havana Friday morning there was an instance of violence. A street car filled with policemen was bombed, and seven men were injured, one perhaps fatally.

At many points in the interior—such as Ciego, Holguin, Trinidad, and Santa Clara—public feeling was at the boiling point and the beginning of revolutionary activity was considered almost inevitable unless the problem of the presidency was immediately solved.

Between 300 and 500 armed and mounted men were reported to have assembled near Ciego. For the time being they remained peaceful.

In Santa Clara province telephone wires were cut, but no important lines were affected.

The government meanwhile continued to contend officially that the strike was nearing a solution, but the central strike committee in Havana reported that delegates from all unions were determined not to stop the movement immediately.

The diplomatic corps discussed reports that the minister from Panama, Antonio Burgos, had made a speech to a private group of Cuban representatives in which he condemned the general attitude of the United States as unwarranted.

Modification Is Expected Friday

HAVANA, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A modification was looked for Friday in a motion of President Machado's Liberal party which condemned as "inter-meddling" American Ambassador Summer Welles' mediation efforts and his suggestion that Machado resign so that peace might be re-established in Cuba.

The party's executive committee adopted the resolution Thursday declaring that the American envoy's activities for peace in the last few weeks were prejudicial to Cuban sovereignty.

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 11.—Everybody knows Mr. Roosevelt doesn't want any armed trouble with Cuba or anybody else, but when you start telling somebody what "they must do," why, you got to back it up with something; you can't tell the bully to quit picking on the boy unless you are prepared to do something to him in case he don't quit picking on him.

Trouble is, we never did set Cuba plumb free, we kept a clause in the contract where we were to remain the guardian.

Take the sugar out of Cuba, and the sugar out of the Philippines and our altruistic feelings would kinder cool off.

Yours,
Will Rogers

Inspiring Addresses Made Yesterday by Mrs. Norton And Miss Lucille M. Grace

"There are just as many smart women in the world as there are smart men," stated Mrs. Norton, state president of the Business and Professional Women, in an inspiring address to the club members yesterday at their regular weekly luncheon.

"We have women who are lawyers, doctors, engineers and women in practically every line of business. Roosevelt is doing much for the women of our country and many are receiving important appointments to government offices."

Mrs. Norton who was recently appointed NRA colonel for Louisiana, gave an entertaining account of the national convention which was recently held in Chicago.

"Our day has just arrived—is just beginning," said Mrs. Norton, concluding her remarks.

Following Mrs. Norton's address, Miss Lucille M. Grace, registrar of state lands, who is known in private life as Mrs. Fred Dent, made a short talk explaining the work of the state land office in Baton Rouge.

"Women have been successful as lawyers, and doctors, and there is no reason why they can't be successful in government affairs. My election to a state office has opened an opportunity to every woman in the state of Louisiana," stated Miss Grace.

"The income of the state land office comes from oil royalties, gas royalties and mineral leases. Between January first and July first the state land office has taken in $200,000, $96,640 of which came from a sulphur mine situated on Lake Peigneur in Iberia parish."

Miss Grace is the first woman ever to be elected to a state office in Louisiana.

Miss Mae McIntosh presided at the luncheon and introduced the local president, Mrs. Laura Slater, who in turn introduced Mrs. Norton.

Members and guests attending the luncheon yesterday were: Mrs. J. W. Norton, Miss Lucille Mae Grace, Mrs. Carl Campbell, Mrs. Gertrude Slay, Miss Mae McIntosh, Miss Alma Terry, Mrs. Lola Lanius, Mrs. Louella Hayes, Mrs. Marie Walmsley, Mrs. Margaret Johnston, Mrs. Lillian Jones, Mrs. Nell Griggsby, Mrs. Acele Smith, Mrs. Myrtle Porter, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Dora Anish, Mrs. Effie Allen, Mrs. Emma Alexandria, Miss Mae Read, Miss Sadie Cottingham, Mrs. Georgia Coddington, Mrs. Mary Bailey, Mrs. Mildred Richeson, Mrs. Clara Dennis, Mrs. Jennie Thornton, Mrs. Myrtle Doughtie, Mrs. Louella Work and Mrs. Laura Slater.

Aroused by the prospect of thousands of children throughout the country facing unjust deprivation of their educational rights, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, through its president, Mrs. Hugh Bradford of California, has announced plans for a semi-annual meeting of the national board of managers on September 18 to 21, in Washington, D. C. "To consider definite plans for mobilizing public support for strikeshooling during the coming year," according to a statement given the press by Mrs. Lawrence A. Mailhes, state president of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association.

Interviewed at her home, 911 Delaware street, Shreveport, Mrs. Mailhes voiced the grave concern felt by her organization over the present-day plight of educational institutions, and expressed the intention of the Louisiana unit of the national congress to cooperate with the parent-group's plan "to promote greater interest in the matter on the part of the general public, by consistent and enlightening publicity which will paint the crisis our children are confronting."

"Parent-Teacher associations have been instrumental in keeping large numbers of children in school throughout the educational difficulties experienced during the past year," Mrs. Mailhes asserted. "It is not to be expected that education will be properly financed by a world largely devoted to business and having only slight opportunity for the proper appreciation of education ideals and methods; many of our citizens are without understanding of modern education, and admit the fact. One of our past purposes in the Parent-Teacher association has been to draw together into our conferences leaders in all walks of life that they may better appreciate education."

Mrs. Mailhes during the interview, announced also a meeting of the state board of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association, on September 20, at 10 a. m., in Alexandria, at Hotel Bentley; and expressed the urgent necessity for every member of this board being present. Important matters relating to the work of the year ahead are scheduled for this meeting, the president said. Mrs. Mailhes will preside, she asserted.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell left last night for New Orleans where she was called by the death of her aunt, Mrs. T. S. O'Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holmes and little daughter, Ellen Jean, and Mr. Dan Bennett have returned to their home in Tulsa, Okla., after a delightful visit with their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Marks, 1807 Jackson street.

We can think of nothing more enjoyable than an evening spent on the cool lawn of the Cooley home out on Grand street listening to the soothing cadences of a negro quartet.

Wednesday evening a few friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooley enjoyed this privilege when the members of the Southern Seminary singers of the American Baptist Theological Seminary, Nashville, Tenn., sang for them.

In this mad age when we are afflicted with so many travesties of music and so much rasping jazz it is a glorious relief to hear some of the old time jumbles and folk songs, with their inimitable melody.

Friends enjoying this refreshing occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce F. Zell, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodriguez, Mrs. Abell, Mrs. Kirt Touchstone and Mrs. C. T. Dixon.

The members of this quartet, who are noted for their sweet harmony, their minor and their arrangement on negro spirituals, jumbles, humorous and folk songs, includes Elisha Jones, first tenor, William Adams, second tenor, Irby McDonald, baritone, Allen Bass and Illie Mabry, tenor soloist.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE PARAMOUNT—If you have ever had family troubles you want to see "Another Language," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which appears Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Paramount theater with Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery co-stars.

The picture, adapted from the famous play by Rose Franken, is truly an epic of the American middle class family and mothers-in-law in particular. It has a moral you will like or dislike, but it is there just the same that mothers who love their children can prove it by keeping out of their affairs after they are married.

Miss Hayes, as the young wife who finds herself smothered by her husband's family, gives the most moving performance of her screen career. He-spirited denunciation of the Hallams, one and all, is by far the finest scene in many a month.

Montgomery, as the ineffectual husband who finds his backbone in the right place when he springs to his wife's defense, is excellent. His portrayal of the part of Vickie will be remembered when some of his more flippant roles have long since been forgotten.

Edward H. Griffith directed the picture with an admirable restraint. He allowed the play to unfold itself smoothly and with mounting tempo. His reaching of the climactic scenes added power and strength which few films achieve.

Louise Closser Hale is the selfish mother and John Beal repeats his brilliant stage performance in the role of Jerry. The splendid cast includes Henry Travers, Margaret Hamilton, Willard Robertson, Irene Cattell, Mildred Davis, Hal Dawson and Mabel Turner.

AT THE CAPITOL—Maurice Chevalier

lier, debonair as ever, plays a new kind of role in his latest picture, "A Bedtime Story," which appears Friday at the Capitol theater.

Maurice is the same Paris playboy, carefree and irresponsible, but the "baby" he pursues is a real, genuine one-year-old, and not the 20-year, blonde, feminine type of the past.

Helen Twelvetrees, Edward Everett Horton, Adrienne Ames, and Baby Leroy, the Los Angeles youngster who won the role in competition with several thousand other youngsters of his own age, head the cast which supports the French star.

The story opens with Maurice's return to his Paris apartment, after a voyage to Africa, and his discovery that someone has abandoned a baby in his car. He calls the police to take it away, but by the time the gendarmes have arrived, he has become so amused and delighted by the youngster that he won't hear of getting rid of it. Instead, he calls an agency and orders them to send him a nurse, and, while awaiting her arrival, he and Horton, his valet, get into one amusing difficulty after the other attempting to attend to the baby's needs.

The nurse finally arrives, in the person of Miss Twelvetrees, an American girl stranded in Paris. She takes matters in hand, and is soon in love with the baby's benefactor, too, but she doesn't tell him that.

The picture reaches a hilarious climax as Chevalier, accompanied by his entire menage, including the b. by, the nurse and the valet, goes to the house of his fiancée for a week-end. The events that follow lose him the fiancée, set him in a jam with another woman, almost lose him Miss Twelvetrees, but ultimately bring matters to a whimsical conclusion.

Maurice sings several new numbers written for him by Ralph Rainger and Leo Rubin.

Seminary Singers End Appearances In Monroe

After appearing before a number of luncheon clubs and other organizations in Monroe, the Southern Seminary singers, negro male quartet from the American Baptist Theological Seminary at Nashville, Tenn., were planning to leave Friday to continue their tour.

This group of singers is said to rank among the three outstanding singing aggregations in the south. They are rated for their melody and arrangement of negro spirituals, jumbles, sacred, humorous and folk songs.

Among the clubs the group appeared before while here were the Rotary club and the Kiwanis club.

U. S. Assumption of Work On Red River Is Sought

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 11.—(P)—Federal assumption of flood control, navigation and drainage of the Red river is being sought by the levee boards of Caddo, Bossier, Red River and DeSoto parishes.

Harry Jacobs, chief of the state board of engineers, told representatives of the board at a joint meeting here Thursday that they should outline a plan under which the government would assume the Red river work.

He urged immediate action at Washington and suggested an appeal to the president, if that were necessary. He said the government could take charge of the work under the provisions of the flood control act.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE

Why Does Avis Arlen Insist Upon Seeing Noel Alone?

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY GIGGLED delightedly as I said that Avis was going to take a leaf from Avis Arlen's book and ask to see Noel alone.

"I don't know about this," she said. "I'm not afraid of Avis, but you're something else again. According to what I've seen and heard, when you exercise your well-known charm upon a man, that man succumbs as if he'd been struck by lightning."

It was the most earnest nonsense, but her eyes were so bright and significant with mischief that, to my furious disgust, I found myself flushing.

Noel came to my rescue with an amused little laugh.

"I'm glad there's some way I can make you jealous," he said. "I had desired of ever 'recomplicating that feat.'"

Mary's Jealousy

Was he as sincere as his voice sounded, I asked myself. Had Mary's poised and careful camouflage of her feelings made him unaware that she twice had been furiously jealous of him—once because of Princess Olina, and the second time because of Avis Arlen and the "poetry books" which Avis had boasted of their reading upon the tour which Noel's father had arranged, we were all sure, for the express purpose of breaking up the betrothal of his son and Mary?

It was just as well that he did not realize her jealousy, I told myself, with the age-old sex loyalty ingrained in every woman's bones. If there was to be any advantage in the emotional battles which I foresaw these two would have, along their marital journey, I wished it to belong to Mary.

Secret Between Avis and Noel

"I'll sacrifice myself to that cause, Noel," I told him smiling. "Run along, Mary, anywhere you please, for the next five minutes. At the end of that time, come down to my little study and I'll turn your boy back to you."

"Yes, but will you guarantee him to be 'heart whole and fancy free'?"

she demanded merrily. But I only made a little moue at her for answer, and taking Noel's arm I rushed him away to my little study.

I closed the door and turned to find the boy looking at me with astonished and bewildered eyes.

"Has—has—anything gone wrong?" he faltered. "Something you want to keep from Mary? Has my father—"

"No, no," I said emphatically, seizing his arm and swinging him back and forth. "Nothing has gone wrong or is likely to. There's only one thing of which I want to warn you. Avis Arlen repeatedly has said that she must see you alone before you are married. She told me—excuse me, Noel, for repeating it—she said that there was something between you and her too sacred for words; something that no one else could understand, and that she must see you and ask you something—clear up something, she said—before you were married. Now—"

A Warning to Noel

"Mrs. Graham!" Noel's voice was suddenly hoarse, strained, and his eyes were tortured. "You can't possibly think that any of that raving is true? It's an awful thing to say about anybody, especially a woman, but that girl—"

"Do you think you need to tell me anything, Noel, about the personality or character of Avis Arlen?" I asked. "I believe her to be capable of any falsehood, any chicanery, to gain her point. I am afraid, too, that she is, I hesitate, I am sure, to tell you anything, for she is sure to keep her secret so close that she cannot get near you, but I want you to be on your guard, so that you will not have to listen to her for even a minute. What is it, boy?"

For, with an exclamation of dismay, Noel was staring at me as if he suddenly saw a basilisk.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: Germaine Tremblay is taking Colin Hewitt, mystery writer, from Cas 8 "Orage" down the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence to a fishing club where Colin hopes to deliver a mysterious letter to Jos Lazarre. Lazarre is in the way of the Masque. New York killer, whom Colin fears and hates. A fog sets in, and in making shore, Germaine's boat tacked, a rock, and Germaine was stunned.

Chapter 15

THE LANDING

COLIN leaped back to the stern of the boat.

"Germaine!" he cried out in alarm.

There was no answer.

He bent over her anxiously. She must have been leaning forward and in the act of shutting off the power when the impact had flung her from her seat and her head had struck some part of the engine. She was stunned, surely no more than that, for there was no sign of any wound. His common sense told him that it could not be anything really serious—but common sense seemed sorry comfort. He was in an agony of suspense.

The boat grounded on the beach. He picked her up in his arms and carried her ashore. Her face, so close to his, resting on his shoulder, was white, bloodless. It brought fear to him. Unreasoning fear—because surely there was no real cause for fear. Her hair brushed against his cheek, somehow strangely urging him to hold her closer still. She was no weight in his arms, and yet his arms trembled.

His eyes searched around him. The beach was strewn with boulders and rocks, but beyond, perhaps a hundred yards away, were trees, already beginning to look ghostly through the gray curtain of fog. He carried her across the beach, found a patch of sward under the trees just at the edge of the wooded land, and laid her down.

And now she stirred, opened her eyes, stared at him blankly for a moment—and smiled.

"That's fine!" he exclaimed buoyantly. "Your're better. But just lie still until I tie up the boat."

Then he brought cushions—a tarpaulin to lay upon the ground.

"Now," he demanded, "how's that, little lady?"

"Perfect!" she answered. "It is nice of you—and so silly of me."

"Silly!" he ejaculated. "All my fault! I should have kept my eyes open!"

"For something you couldn't see?"

"Oh, well," he said a little lamely, "at least—"

"Oh, well!" she interrupted. "That expresses it exactly. It couldn't be helped, and anyway there's no real harm done. I pitched headlong against the engine when we struck, as you have already guessed, and I shall probably have a headache—which won't last. She felt gingerly over her head with her hand. "Also a goose-egg—which won't last either."

"Stout fellow!" he applauded.

The fog was still thickening. Colin could scarcely see the boat now at the water's edge. Thank God there was no cause for grave concern on her account, but what to do now? Suppose the fog lasted on through the afternoon, the night—terminally? He might get assistance from the club. If one struck across overland, it couldn't be very far away.

"Look here," he proposed, "from what you said, this club can't be more than a mile or so at most from here by land, and I think I'd better cut over there and get some of the clumps to help out. You can't stay here all night, you know."

SHE raised herself up on her elbow.

"You will do nothing of the sort!" she stated with finality.

"And why not?" he asked.

"For a host of reasons," she answered. "In the first place, I'm quite all right, or, at least, I will be in half an hour or so; and, if it became a question of going to the club, I could go with you. In the second place, in this fog, we'd be lost in the woods before we had gone a quarter of a mile. And in the third place, we are perfectly; all right as we are, no matter how long the fog lasts. We are not even going to be subjected to any hardships. There's a thermos bottle and a lunch basket in the boat, you know."

It sounded logical. Undoubtedly she was right.

"Still the skipper, I perceive," he teased.

Sudden danger thrusts itself upon Colin and Germaine, tomorrow.

Oyster Marketing Accord Would Divide Producing States In Three Groups

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—An oyster marketing agreement and code of fair dealing, discussed by members of the trade with agricultural adjustment administration officials, would divide the oyster producing states into four groups.

The North Atlantic division would be composed of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Delaware; the Middle Atlantic division, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina; and the South Atlantic and Gulf states division, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. The three Pacific coast states would comprise the Pacific division.

The proposed code, submitted by the oyster growers and dealers association of North America, Inc., would authorize a committee to draw up a marketing plan, and would establish a uniform system of grading.

Howard W. Beach of New Haven, Conn., president, and other officers of the association, told the adjustment administration that they represented 80 per cent of the oyster industry.

They reported extremely low prices were being received by the growers.

Recovery Board Member Back From New Orleans

W. C. Fazel, member of the state board named by President Roosevelt to administer the National Recovery act in Louisiana, had returned Friday from New Orleans, where he went for the purpose of attending a meeting of the board. Due to the fact, however, that no instructions have been received from national headquarters, no meeting of the board was held, members deciding that they could not map out a course of action without additional instructions from the recovery administrator.

WIDOWS BATTLE OVER CORPSE OF AVIATOR HUSBAND

Squabble Rages As Body Arrives at Kansas City Station

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A heated contest over a dual claim to recognition as his widow was halted temporarily Friday for funeral services of Capt. Edward Deeds, World War aviator.

Deeds was killed in an airplane crash in China, and two women came back with the body, each claiming the rights of widowhood. While his body was being removed from a railway coach, the two women stood in the train and hurled contentions and denunciations at each other.

Mrs. Betty Deeds, married to the pilot for seven years prior to his departure for the Orient, came on ahead from the west coast. When she went to the station to meet the train bearing Deeds' body, she came face to face with Mrs. Marie Hennessy Shirley Deeds, former motion picture actress.

Mrs. Marie Deeds flung at her rival a claim that she married Captain Deeds four days before the fatal accident. But there was no divorce, Mrs. Betty Deeds retorted.

Documents, divorce attestations and other legal proof were waved as the two headed a curious procession to the station lobby.

"I was married to Eddie seven years. You only had him four days," Mrs. Betty Deeds charged.

"You lost him and now you want to get back in the swim," came back Mrs. Marie Deeds.

Deeds' mother, Mrs. Miller Potvin, accepted Mrs. Betty Deeds as her son's true wife.

Captain Deeds, crack aviator with the Canadian forces in the World war, and later an aviation instructor for the American army, was employed by the Chinese government as an instructor at Canton. He was killed July 1.

Man Being Sought In Fatal Shooting

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Investigators Friday were seeking a man for questioning in connection with the fatal shooting of June Evans, also known as June Croxton, 32, found dying in a bedroom at the home of Lee R. Lucas here Thursday night. She died in a hospital.

Lucas reported to police that he, Clodie Cady, Ted Willis and Miss Evans were at dinner when Miss Evans suddenly left the table and went into the bedroom. They heard two shots, rushed into the room and found her lying, wounded, on the floor. Detectives were seeking another man reported to have been at the house at the time of the shooting but who fled before officers arrived.

2 ARE ARRESTED WHEN GAMBLING TABLES SEIZED

District Attorney Announces Drive Against Games of Chance

Bills of information charging P. K. Gibbs and Pal Jennings with operating banking dice tables were filed Wednesday in the office of Frank W. Hawthorne, district attorney, after the men had been taken into custody by members of the sheriff's department. Sums of money and the gambling equipment were confiscated.

According to the district attorney, Jennings was operating a banking table in a downtown pool hall and Gibbs was operating another table in an office building. Members of the sheriff's department said they "took $388.50 from the table in front of Gibbs and $396.50 from the table in front of Jennings."

Under the law the minimum fine which can be assessed for operating a banking table is $1,000, Mr. Hawthorne said.

After the arrests had been made the district attorney issued a statement in which he said he planned to enforce the law against gambling devices. He asserted he planned to make a drive against slot machines and that he did not intend to allow the operators to "get by" by using checks instead of money.

The raids on the two places were made on information furnished to Mr. Hawthorne and the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriffs Frank Cline, H. L. Tolbert and Clyde Mitchell participated in the raids and took the men into custody when, they said, they found them at tables with piles of money in front of them.

CODE IS STUDIED BY OPTOMETRISTS

State Meeting Will Be Held at Alexandria Later In Month

Dr. S. R. Clay of Ruston, president of the Louisiana State Optometric society, presided at a meeting here Thursday night of the Northeast Louisiana Optometric society. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the National Recovery act and a code for the optometric society.

Codes proposed by the American Optometric association and by the state organization were read by Dr. Clay. Members of the group went on record as approving the two codes, which were similar in almost all respects.

After the proposed codes have been approved by the different optometric groups they will be sent to Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, for approval. When a code has finally been decided on and approved by the president, the state organization in Louisiana will hold a meeting in Alexandria for the purpose of putting the code into effect.

Those attending the meeting here Thursday night were: Drs. E. O. Strahan, Sr., and E. O. Strahan, Jr., of Winnsboro, S. R. Clay of Ruston, Bert Heinberg, B. I. Friedman, T. A. Brulte and C. C. Fryant of Monroe.

ROTARIANS WILL BACK NRA PLAN

Resolutions Supporting Program Are Adopted at Meeting

The Monroe Rotary club, at its regular meeting held Thursday noon at Hotel Virginia, adopted a resolution pledging support to the president in his reemployment program. The resolution, previously adopted by the club's board of directors and unanimously approved at yesterday's meeting, is as follows:

"Be it resolved by the board of directors of the Rotary club of Monroe, La., that this club shall and does hereby go on record as being heartily in accord with and endorsing in full the national recovery act as now being promulgated by the president of these United States and by all others in authority.

"Be it further resolved that this club as a whole, or any committee or unit from same shall and does hereby tender every consistent aid and assistance toward the furtherance of this national program and toward its eventual successful culmination;

"And be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the following: William Feazel, director of this district of the national recovery administration; to the Monroe Chamber of Commerce; and to Rotarian Clayton Rand, district governor of the 17th district Rotary International.

Features of the program at the Thursday meeting included a talk by Rotarian Albert Horuff on the club's educational revolving fund, which is employed to aid worthy young men and women of the city to complete their education. The fund has been in existence for nine years and its beneficiaries number 40 or more students who have been materially helped in accomplishing their educational plans.

Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Kate Allison, accompanied by Mrs. Kate Delarot on the violin and Leon Hammonds at the piano.

Dental Supply Company Begins Business Here

A new industry for Monroe was organized Thursday with the filing of incorporation papers of the Pierce Dental Supply company, Inc., in the office of the clerk of court. The new corporation has been organized to deal in surgical instruments and dentists' materials and to operate a laboratory for the manufacture of dental work.

The concern is domiciled at 802 in the Ouachita bank building and has a total capitalization of $5,000, represented by 200 shares of stock of a par value of $25 each.

Officers, who also constitute the board of directors, and the number of shares of stock subscribed by each were shown as follows: H. B. Pierce, president, 24 shares; H. M. Eshelman, vice-president, four shares, and Mrs. Mae Lowery, secretary-treasurer, 12 shares.

Revival Meeting In Progress At Spencer

An open-air revival meeting of old-fashioned character is in progress at Spencer, across the Ouachita river from Sterling, according to announcement Friday by Rev. G. E. Goodman, pastor of the church at that place. Sermons are being preached by Rev. E. A. Bateman, evangelist. Large crowds are said to be attending each service and interest is increasing.

The sermon subject for Friday night will be taken from John 3:7, "Ye Must Be Born Again." For Saturday night the subject will be, "The Mark of Deceit," or "Is the NRA the Mark of Deceit?"

MAN IS INJURED

J. C. Kirby, 49, local mattress factory employee, who was injured about 9 o'clock Thursday night, when he stumbled over a guy-wire leading to a tall poll, was reported Friday to be getting along well. Kirby's back was strained when he tripped over the wire, which was near the sidewalk, and fell to the ground. He was taken to St. Francis sanitarium.

Grocers Will Open And Close As They Please

Efforts of the Retail Grocers' association to fix a uniform schedule for opening and closing stores failed at a meeting Wednesday night, F. A. Watts, president, reported Thursday.

As a result, this phase of the efforts to reach an agreement was laid aside, with the understanding that the grocery stores would open and close when they chose, so long as they comply with the government's requirement that they remain open 52 hours a week.

An attempt also was made to reach an agreement on closing Sundays, but operators of some of the smaller stores in the residential sections refused to accede. Additional efforts toward Sunday closing may be sought later, Mr. Watts said.

BLOW-OUT PROOF RIVERSIDE TIRES

Blowout Proof because of an extra patented process:

LATEX WELDED CORDS

(100% PURE LIQUID RUBBER)

which prevent Cord Separation... the cause of blowouts

Blistering heat develops inside your tire every time you drive your car 35 miles an hour or faster! Heat so terrific that in many tires it causes cords to separate. It weakens the tire from within, causing blisters you can't see. You hit a rock or a bump. Suddenly—BANG—a blowout! It may come today, tomorrow, any minute! A blowout that can send your car hurtling off the road! The lives of your family are at stake!

Riverside tires are built to prevent blowouts! Riversides' Cords—the heart of the tire—are made from extra strong, long staple, premium cotton. Every cord in every ply is dipped in LATEX—100% pure, liquid, virgin rubber. This welds the cords into a super strong unit! It gives Riversides the strongest tire carcass made! It prevents cord separation—the cause of blowouts!

Why We Save You Money

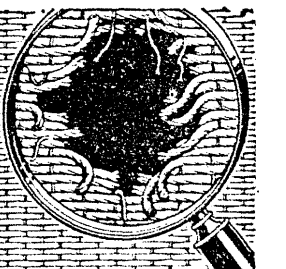

Of course Riversides are made in one of America's largest and best tire factories. BUT—they come direct to us—minus the manufacturer's selling and general overhead expense. That's a saving. The second saving comes from Wards low cost method of distribution. These two reasons explain why we sell high quality tires for less. It's simple to figure out for yourself why Riversides are better in quality, mileage, and safety than any other tire at the same price.

*RIVERSIDE TIRES

will not blow out under normal road conditions during the life of the tread if they are kept properly inflated in accordance with the specified air pressures.

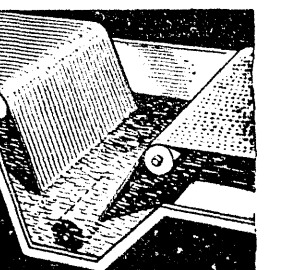

Wards Unlimited Guarantee

For your protection every single Riverside tire is guaranteed by Wards to give service that is satisfactory to you. No time limit! No mileage limit! A tire has to be extra good—has to be extra safe to be backed by the strongest tire guarantee ever written!

Cord Separation

This shows cords that have been separated by heat inside the tire. Cord separation causes internal blisters and weakens the tire. A blowout is the result!

Latex Dipping

By an extra process, every cord in every ply in all Riverside tires is dipped in Latex. This welds the cords into a super strong unit that defies cord separation and blowouts!

PLANS MADE FOR TWO-BAR CROSS SALE SATURDAY

Funds Are Sought By Tuberculosis and Health Association

A tag day in which the double-bar cross will be offered for sale will be conducted Saturday by the Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health association. Workers offering the crosses for sale will be stationed in front of the postoffice and on prominent downtown street corners.

It was announced that the campaign is being conducted for the purpose of raising funds to enable the organization to continue its work; until the annual Christmas seal sale is held. Because of the necessary charitable work the association is doing, citizens are urged to respond by buying the double crosses.

The Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health association is said to have as its only purpose the carrying on of a fight against tuberculosis and the giving of assistance to those thus afflicted. Funds of the association are said to be low and more money is needed to continue to supply milk and hospitalization to the needy who have tuberculosis.

Scientist, Sunday, August 13th.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth. My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad. O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together." (Ps. 34). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When reading the Scriptures, the substitution of the word sense for soul gives the exact meaning in a majority of cases. As used in Christian Science, soul is properly the synonym of Spirit, or God; but out of Science, soul is identical with sense, with material sensation." (pp. 481-482).

Services for the week-end take place

as follows: The Holy Eucharist, 7:30 a.m.; church school,

9:30 a.m.; morning prayer and sermon, 11 a.m. Whether the thoughtful wisdom of men, or rather the providential guidance of the Lord, is to be credited with the careful arrange and succession of Scriptures in this day's services, it may be difficult to say. Wisdom and skill are, nevertheless, conspicuous throughout as the devout worshipper can't fail to see. In the collect for the day, we implore God's grace that we may "think and do, always, such things as are right; and be enabled to live according to God's will." The epistle, as it were taking up Korah's murmurings (the first lesson for morning prayer being the history of Korah's rebellion) teaches us, that "these things happen unto them for examples" and they are written for our admonition upon whom the ends of the world have come." The holy gospel is the parable of the unjust steward, which is "hard to be understood." The worldly wisdom of this had man suggested to him the importance of preparing for the day of want which he saw coming. As a day is coming when we shall be turned out of our stewardship, why should not we be wise and faithful stewards, on the like principle of forethought? By using our own means, as the bad steward used his master's, we may make ourselves friends in many a poor Lazarus, who in the day of our death will welcome us the Abraham's bosom. The

FIVE ARE KILLED AS CAR STRIKES PARKED VEHICLE

Two Sisters of Jefferson Parish Sheriff Are Among Dead

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11.—(P)—Jefferson parish authorities said Friday that a charge of involuntary homicide would be filed against Walter Hymel, 19, of Reserve, La., operator of a truck which figured in an automobile accident fatal to five last night.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11.—(P)—Two sisters of Sheriff Frank J. Clancy of Jefferson parish and three other persons were killed Thursday night near Kenner when their car crashed into a truck parked on the roadside. Five others were injured, two seriously.

Mrs. Myrtle Maloney, 36, and Mrs. Gladys Schneckenberger, 34, sisters of the sheriff, were among those fatally injured. The other dead are Mrs. Chris Lockbaum, 46; Mrs. Julia Part, 51, and Clancy Maloney, 8. All are of Kenner.

Chris Lockbaum, 50, Jefferson parish deputy sheriff, who was driving the car, and Frank Gregory Maloney, Jr., 10, were the most seriously injured. Walter Hymel, 19, Margaret Maloney, 12, and Mrs. Anastasia Clancy Alexander, 39, another sister of Sheriff Clancy, were also injured.

Hymel, driver of the truck, resided at Reserve. The others injured lived at Kenner. All the injured were brought here for treatment.

Hymel said he had parked his truck on the side of the road to repair a tire when the automobile crashed into it, tearing away the front part of the car and hurling the occupants to the highway.

The group in the automobile were en route to Norco to attend an indoor baseball game between the Norco and Kenner teams. Mrs. Schneckenberger and Mrs. Alexander were members of the Kenner team.

TESTIMONY NEAR END IN RAIL ROW

Employees Seek to Make
L. A. and T. Comply
With Proposal

GREENVILLE, Tex., Aug. 11.—(P)—Employees of the Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas railway, refused by the management of the line in their request that it cooperate with an agreement on employees' compensation proposed June 21 by Joseph B. Eastman, federal transportation coordinator, Friday were near the close of testimony being presented before the government's emergency railway board.

The request—and the refusal—came in the course of a hearing on a dispute between employees and the management of the L. A. and T. over a wage reduction and working agreement change made by the line last June 3.

The employees pointed out that the agreement proposed by Eastman, in line with President Roosevelt's recovery program, had met with approval by practically all railroads and 21 standard railroad labor organizations, with the exception of the L. A. and T. and two others.

Under terms of the agreement, railroads would surrender for a period of eight months the right to seek further reductions in employee compensation and employees would surrender for a like period their opportunity to secure elimination of the 10 per cent reduction in effect before June 21 on all lines.

A. L. Burford, counsel for the L. A. and T., said "we would be forced to respectfully refuse if asked to agree to the agreement announced by Mr. Eastman."

but later named three leaders to re-draft the strong pronouncement.

In congressional halls, subsequently, the impression prevailed that the three men, Senator Alberto Barrios, Representative Rafael Gius Incan, and Governor Jose Barrolo of Oriente province, would re-word the measure so as to leave the party nominally opposed to "intermeddling" but giving Machado a way out.

However, the belief was widely entertained that the president would soon give a definite reply to the American envoy's proposal for Machado's withdrawal.

Ambassador Welles, attacked and defended for his efforts, meanwhile became the storm center of the Cuban political tumult, which entered the stage of a passive revolution with the spread of a general strike.

Members of the conservative and popular parties in statements said they approved Welles' conferences with governmental and opposition representatives, from which came suggestions for political reforms.

Welles said he was acting with President Roosevelt's support. Machado himself has said he will not give up his office—that he has lived in this republic and that he intends to die here.

Only one Liberal, it was learned, voted against the executive committee's motion. He is Dr. Emilio Nunez, who said he spoke against it because he thought it would mean American intervention and added that his life had been threatened for opposing it.

Significance was attached to a scheduled interview Friday between the ambassador and Secretary of State Orestes Ferrara, who drafted the resolution. This would be their third conference since Tuesday.

High opposition sources were of the opinion the next development might be Machado's answer to President Roosevelt's recent statement urging economic considerations be placed ahead of political problems.

Interest, too, was shown in the decision of Oscar B. Cintas, Cuban ambassador to Washington, to return here after a conference with Secretary of State Hull in which, it was said, he had not been threatened with American intervention.

The army remained on duty in Havana for the third day, but President Machado, who on Monday decreed a state of war throughout the country, said there is no "special purpose or significance" in it, "being only a matter of routine."

He added, in a formal communication, that "when the Cuban congress approved the suspension for a period of 30 days in the constitutional guarantees upheld in eight different articles of our magna charta, the logical step to put in operation this emergency law was the decree of a state of war."

"But the temporary suspension of the constitutional guarantees is only intended to cope with the problems created throughout the republic by the strike and has no political meaning."

"I have not changed my mind nor my purpose to lend every support to the constitutional reforms, to the project of electoral law prepared under the guidance of Professor (Howard Lee) McBain (of Columbia University) and which project was sent Thursday to the congress with a message of the executive; to uphold the autonomy of the university."

Police authorities, meanwhile, announced a strike of street car men would end Friday. Officials of the Havana Electric railways said they had received like information from the workers, among the earliest transport employees to join the walkout.

The food shortage meanwhile became more stringent. Soldiers helped distribute certain commodities to hospitals. The interior department announced it would feed the hungry at four stations. Prices of food skyrocketed. A check of groceries showed that only rice and white beans were still in stock, and that bread, butter, milk, and other staples were nearly non-existent.

Dave Oliver, American photographer for a news reel company in New York, was jailed for four hours for attempting to take a picture in a restricted area here. He was released, he said, after other newspapermen had communicated with Washington and Ambassador Welles. Leo J. Reiser, Havana correspondent for a New York newspaper was arrested with Oliver, but was released shortly afterward.

In the town of Regla, across the bay from Havana, Capt. Marcelino Yanes, military supervisor, arrested the entire force of 30 policemen and imprisoned them on charges of insubordination. The police had resigned in protest against the non-payment of back salaries. Soldiers subsequently patrolled the town.

Few automobiles were in the streets last night, and those were carefully inspected by police.

dressing and washing before the lavatory it suddenly gave way and fell. It struck my foot and as I looked down the blood was spurting in every direction.

"I telephoned a physician, but there were no answers as they are on strike, too."

"There were no cars to take me to the hospital. Finally I got the office and they said they would send a car, but in the meantime a boy in the house got his car out (which he had not dared to use for 3 days) and took me to a first aid station where I got treatment. It was terribly painful (Miss Howell then describes the operation which caused her to "scream like mad.")

"I had to wait two days before I could get a doctor again—got one who lives across the street. He was in jail all Saturday night. They jailed doctors to keep them from visiting people."

"We are expecting intervention," the letter continues. "They said there were four warships just outside the harbor. People starving in Havana—no one on streets—killing police and civilians in skirmishes everywhere—the strike has turned into a revolution—the people say Machado, the president, has to go and he refuses—we expect lights and water to go unless there is intervention."

lords of creation—the vaunted human race.

"We saw a squirrel starving to death on the knot hole of his nut-filled hollow tree, we wouldn't believe it. And yet here are 125,000,000 people with grainier full and factories shut, but yet with millions of workers idle and hungry and shabby and afraid of the future and of everything and everybody about them. It just doesn't make sense. It is too much like a dark huddle of jungle savages dying by swarms of Asiatic cholera because nobody ever told them to wash their hands before eating. It is a shocking thing."

Modification of the blanket re-employment agreement were authorized for two more big industries, restaurants and laundries, pending action on permanent codes.

The restaurant code provides minimum wages of 23 to 28 cents an hour, according to population, with rates two cents lower in the south. Tips can not be included in the minimum and not over $3 a week may be included for meals. Hours are fixed at 54 per week for men and 48 for women.

The laundry provisions, once rejected by Johnson because of a minimum wage of 14 cents an hour proposed for the south, was accepted this time with a declaration by the administrator that the wages still were unsatisfactory and would be subject to review in hearings later. The provisions to be put into effect temporarily call for a 45-hour week, with minimum wages ranging from 20 cents an hour in the south to 27 1-2 cents in the east. Office workers would be paid minimums of $13 or $14 per week, according to population, and $1 less in the south. Engineers, firemen and maintenance employees would receive minimums of 35 to 50 cents an hour for a 50-hour week.

Roosevelt Wields Big Club For NRA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—A presidential order and governmental example pushed along Friday the national recovery administration's organized campaign to "buy under the blue eagle emblem" of industrial recovery.

Closely following the remark by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, that "it would be curious" if the government dealt with firms not coming in under the recovery program, President Roosevelt Thursday backed the administrator's words with a presidential order virtually fulfilling Johnson's prediction.

Mr. Roosevelt, at the summer White House, issued an executive order that all government contracts would be cancelled if the contractor did not comply with the recovery code. Government contracts eventually will include a big part of the $3,300,000,000 public works fund.

At almost the hour the presidential order was issued, Johnson, in an address at Baltimore, said that "the public must buy now, it must buy to the blue eagle and it must buy to the full of its reasonable and prudent needs." This, said the administrator, was "nothing less than the point of success or failure" in the entire recovery program.

The campaign, Johnson predicted, would intensify during the next three weeks toward "complete saturation of the country" with the spirit of the recovery program.

POPULAR JEWISH MUSIC PEDAGOGUE LEAVES GERMANY

PARIS, Aug. 11.—(P)—American students of the violin who used to attend the courses of Professor Issay Barmas in Berlin must now meet their master at Paris. Barmas, being a Jew, found himself cut off from further means of livelihood in the Nazi "Third Reich."

He came to Berlin from Russia in 1896 to study under the late Joseph Joachim, perhaps the outstanding figure of his generation of violinists. Barmas followed in the footsteps of his master, and became a leading musical pedagogue in the German capital. His wife, an American, made his home a social center of the musically inclined.

Many teachers of the violin have studied under him.

Red-Eyed Fly Battles Nebraska Grasshoppers

PHOENIX, Neb., Aug. 11.—(P)—The spawn of a red-eyed fly is spreading destruction among grasshoppers in northern Nebraska.

Swarming as thick as bees sometimes, they lay their eggs on the "hoppers in flight. Maggots hatching from the eggs eat into the vitals of the insects and kill them in two or three weeks.

Don B. Whelan of the Nebraska agricultural college at Lincoln, who has studied the flies, says it is a toss-up whether the "hoppers' enemies are any benefit to the farmer. In some parts of the state blister beetles also have appeared to plague the grasshoppers, but the adult beetles likewise attack garden stuff.

Goitre Sufferers Advised To Drink Plenty of Water

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 11.—(P)—Because tests at the University of Michigan indicate that excess secretions of the thyroid gland in goitre patients have a "forced draft" effect, two doctors are advising such patients to drink plenty of water and stay in cool places during hot weather.

Dr. Frederick A. Collier and Dr. Walter G. Maddock found that water will be used by the body for cooling purposes through evaporation even if it leaves a shortage for other functions. They also found that goitre patients evaporate as much as two quarts of water a day because more heat is produced by use of food in the body.

Perseid Meteors Travel At Fast Rate of Speed

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(P)—If you wish to see what a speed of 144,000 miles an hour really looks like, turn out late Friday night to look at the Perseid meteors.

Reports of preliminary observations today indicate that these annual meteors are on time as usual this year. Between midnight Friday night and dawn Saturday the earth is due to pass through the part of the Perseid orbit where the meteors are most densely crowded. Twenty to 30 an hour should be visible.

FILLING STATION MEN ASK WAY TO LIVE UP TO CODE

Committee Appointed to Ask Companies For Better Profit

At a meeting of filling station operators at the courthouse Friday morning, C. R. Tidwell, chairman, appointed a committee of three men to confer with oil companies in regard to obtaining one cent a gallon more profit on gasoline to enable them to comply with the national recovery code. Those named on the committee were J. L. Warren of the Pan-American Petroleum company, W. L. Morris of the Louisiana Oil company and E. F. Jones of the Gulf Refining company.

Several of the filling station men said they were anxious to comply with the code, but did not believe they would be able to do so on the present margin of profit. Most of them had figured out just how much more it would cost to operate under the code and were of the opinion that an additional cent's profit would enable them to comply.

Most of the filling stations are now operating on a basis of a profit of three cents a gallon on gasoline. The operators said a four-cent profit would enable them to remain open as long as at present, to work the men only 40 hours a week and to pay them the required wages.

Another meeting of the shoe repairers of the Twin Cities was held Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce. It was stated that practically all of the repairers in Monroe had signed a price agreement.

U. S. NAVY AFTER BASE IN MEXICO, JAP PAPERS SAY

Foreign Office Declares
Reports From Reliable
Sources

TOKYO, Aug. 11.—(P)—Vernacular newspapers printed what they called "reliable information" Friday that America was negotiating with Mexico for a naval base in lower California and to statements attributed to navy officers that such a base would seriously menace peace in the Pacific.

These reports reached the foreign office from official sources in the United States, a spokesman said, but he declined to reveal whether they were Japanese or non-Japanese. He added that the government was not perturbed and that an investigation was considered unnecessary.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi said, however, that the foreign office was studying the matter since such a base would be in violation of the Washington naval treaty.

Newspapers, keeping alive the popular belief about "American naval ambitions" at a time when a forthcoming budget including large appropriations for defense is being considered, identified the site of the base as Magdalena bay, on the southwest coast of lower California.

They pointed out that the United States fleet spent a month there on a world cruise in 1908 and that when the Japanese cruiser Asama was stranded near the bay in 1915, the American press charged Japan was seeking a base there.

FEDERAL AGENTS SEEKING 4TH MAN IN URSCHER CASE

Sons were questioned Thursday by federal operatives but none was held. Previously, Hanni said, "impossible and unreasonable stories" were related by William Nelson, unemployed; Sam Kronick, barber supply and cosmetic business house head, and Charles Wolk, transfer company head, all of Minneapolis. From them federal operatives said they accounted for about $1,500 of the ransom. About $500 additional had dribbled into St. Paul banks from unknown sources.

ministration. He said one of the reasons the federal trade commission had failed to accomplish the objectives set for it by its proponents was that it had become a "policeman."

Violations of permanent codes, where they are not cleared up after conciliatory action by the administration, will be referred to the federal trade commission and then to the department of justice if necessary, the administrator explained, but said: "We are going to assume good faith until we see something different."

Johnson Approves Modified Accords

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—Operation of four industries under modified presidential reemployment agreements—boot and shoe, drug, cheese, and cotton batting—were authorized Friday by Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator.

These codes thus will be in effect pending hearings, after which final stipulations are drafted for promulgation by the president.

The boot and shoe agreement provides for a 40-hour work week, with a 10 per cent leeway during any four-week period until final approval of the code. Minimum wages are 37 1-2 cents per hour in any city over 250,000 population and its immediate trade area, 36 1-4 cents in any city of more than 20,000 population, and 35 cents in cities and towns of less than 20,000. The wage rate for women is 5 cents under that for men, with the proviso, however, that where women do substantially the same work their wages shall be the same as received by men. In the wholesale drug agreement a work week of 45 hours is provided, with the usual exceptions covering administrative employees and 10 per cent leeway of hours allowed in the case of delivery men.

Minimum wages in cities of 100,000 population and over shall not be less than $14 per week and in communities under 100,000 not less than $13 per week, apprentices, who may not exceed 10 per cent of the total number of employees, to receive not less than $2 per week below these minimum wages. The modified agreement for the dry goods cotton batting industry provides an average maximum work-week of not to exceed 40 hours until January 1, next, and thereafter during each six-month period, and not more than 48 hours in any one week during such period, nor more than 8 hours in any one day.

For the cheese industry the maximum work-week for plant and factory employees is fixed at 48 hours, and for accounting, clerical or office employees at 40 hours, the latter averaged over a 60-day period.

In cities of more than 500,000 salaries of employees shall not be paid less than $15 per week, in communities between 250,000 and 500,000 population not less than $14.50 per week, and in communities of 250,000 to 250,000 not less than $14 per week. In towns of less than 25,000 population wages are to be increased at least 20 per cent provided this shall not acquire wages in excess of $12 per week.

Rigid Federal Oil Control Plan Seen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—An intimation that the federal government would provide for rigid control over oil production in the petroleum trade practice plan now nearing completion, came Friday from Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, whose aides are writing it.

Pending completion of the revised code, which is a successor to a tentative draft submitted to the oil industry two weeks ago, and until the new draft has been seen by them, Johnson would not comment on details.

His intimation that rigid production control would be included came about when he said the recovery program did not recognize state lines.

Red-Eyed Fly Battles Nebraska Grasshoppers

PHOENIX, Neb., Aug. 11.—(P)—The spawn of a red-eyed fly is spreading destruction among grasshoppers in northern Nebraska.

Swarming as thick as bees sometimes, they lay their eggs on the "hoppers in flight. Maggots hatching from the eggs eat into the vitals of the insects and kill them in two or three weeks.

Don B. Whelan of the Nebraska agricultural college at Lincoln, who has studied the flies, says it is a toss-up whether the "hoppers' enemies are any benefit to the farmer. In some parts of the state blister beetles also have appeared to plague the grasshoppers, but the adult beetles likewise attack garden stuff.

Goitre Sufferers Advised To Drink Plenty of Water

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 11.—(P)—Because tests at the University of Michigan indicate that excess secretions of the thyroid gland in goitre patients have a "forced draft" effect, two doctors are advising such patients to drink plenty of water and stay in cool places during hot weather.

Dr. Frederick A. Collier and Dr. Walter G. Maddock found that water will be used by the body for cooling purposes through evaporation even if it leaves a shortage for other functions. They also found that goitre patients evaporate as much as two quarts of water a day because more heat is produced by use of food in the body.

MANGIN, WOOD TO SEMI-FINALS

Tidball and Van Ryn Are Eliminated in Eastern Tennis Tourney

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Gregory Mangin, New York, N. J., and Sidney B. Wood, Jr., New York, led the way into the semi-final brackets in the men's singles of the Eastern Grass Court championships Thursday, eliminating Jack Tidball, national collegiate titleholder, and John Van Ryn, Davis cup player, respectively.

Mangin, seventh in the national ranking, went three sets in disposing of Tidball, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, while Wood, ranked fourth, eliminated Van Ryn 6-3, 6-7, before the gallery of 1,500 at the West Chester country club.

The women's doubles quarter-finals were completed, with the favorites advancing, although one seeded team was eliminated. Only two matches were played, the other two teams advancing Wednesday. Joan Ridley, English ace, paired with Mrs. Brunie of White Plains, N. Y., eliminated the fourth seeded pair, Baroness Levi and Mrs. John Van Ryn, 6-4, 6-3, and Josephine Cruckshank and Alice Marble, the Californians, disposed of Eugenie S. Sweeney and Theodosia Smith with little trouble, 6-0, 6-1.

Thursday also saw the completion of both the second and quarter-final rounds in the men's doubles.

After Berkeley Bell, New York, and J. Gilbert Hall, Orange, N. J., had defeated Hal Surface of Kansas City and Samuel Lee of Berkeley, Calif., 6-2, 6-2, they were eliminated by the national champions, Ellsworth Vines and Kith Gledhill, 6-2, 6-4. Other second round matches resulted in victories for Frank Shields and Frank Parker over Henry Culley and Joseph Coughlin, 6-2, 6-3, and for Clifford Sutter and Sidney Wood over Karl Kramath and Wilmer Hines, 6-2, 6-3.

Joining Vines and Gledhill in the semi-final brackets were George Lott and Gregory Mangin, seeded second, who defeated Robert Bryan and John McDiarmid, 6-3, 6-4.

The remaining two doubles semi-final teams will be Lester Stiefen-Jack Tidball, and Frank Shields-Frank Parker.

Shields and Parker, seeded third, rallied brilliantly in the final set to put off John Van Ryn and Henry Prusoff, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4. The final match of the day saw Stiefen and Tidball, unseeded, steady themselves after losing the first set to Cliff Sutter and Sidney B. Wood and knot things up by taking the extended second set and also the third set. The score was 2-6, 17-15, 7-5.

New Orleans Creeps Up Toward Top of League

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 11.—(AP)—New Orleans has once more crept up within striking distance of Knoxville and Friday was within half a game of the top of the Southern association.

The second-place New Orleans team defeated the league leading Knoxville Smokies, 7 to 5, Thursday as Eddie Moore doubled to drive in the deciding runs. Holt and Hips got home runs for Knoxville.

A tenth-inning home run by George Granger, inserted in the lineup after a wholesale banishment of Chicks by Umpire Ainsmith, drove one man in ahead to give Memphis a 9-to-7 victory over Chattanooga and a clean sweep of their series.

Birmingham defeated Atlanta, 8 to 0, as Hill Hughes took revenge for an earlier pounding and shut the Crackers out. Braly of Birmingham got a home run and Abernathy three hits in three times at bat.

Nashville broke four scoreless innings and began a hitting attack in the fifth that netted the Volunteers a 9-to-5 victory over the Little Rock Travelers.

Gehrig Nears Record for Consecutive Games Played

Yankees' Slugger Calmly Goes About Breaking Scott's Mark

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Lou Gehrig hasn't the slightest recollection of the game or circumstances under which he began his "iron man" streak of consecutive games away back in 1925, when he was just an enthusiastic "freshman" trying to make good for the Yankees the way he used to do for dear old Columbia.

What's more he hasn't thought much about it since he has no idea of asking for a day off after he plays consecutive game No. 1,308, probably some time next week in St. Louis, to surpass the world record for baseball endurance set by Everett Scott, Yankee shortstop, the same year that Gehrig took off on his non-stop flight.

"Why should there be so much fuss about a fellow sticking to a good, steady job?" asked Gehrig after knocking off work Wednesday in game No. 1,302. "I can't see that's anything to get excited about. I like to play baseball, the Yankees seem to want me regularly on first base, so why not be in there right along?"

It was called to Lou's attention that perhaps there were times during his long run that he might have liked to lay off, that in fact he played for several weeks in 1931 with a broken little finger on his throwing hand and at other times with a sprained ankle.

"Well," he admitted, "it may have been tough sometimes but I figured I might as well play if I could, instead of babbling myself about little things like that. I played a lot of football when I was in college and nobody was taking time out to ask me how I felt. I think the experience was good for me. At any rate, I can't say I ever had much real excuse for not being in the ball game or that the effort to keep my string intact influenced me to play when I shouldn't. This long run of games didn't mean much to me until I passed the 1,000 mark."

So far as Gehrig is concerned, he will keep on playing daily, adding to his record, unless and until the Yankees decide he should have a rest. Before that happens, the club will have to hire another first baseman.

There is no understudy for Lou on hand now. His streak will reach 1,352 games if he completes the present season, and he sees no reason why it should stop there.

They say the strain has told on Gehrig, that his recent batting slump may be blamed in part on his continuous playing but Gehrig disagrees heartily.

"The way I look at it, a ball player ought to be able to play right along, barring accidents or a change that is necessary for the club's benefit, instead of looking around for some excuse to take a day off. I take my share of bumps at first base and like it."

Ball and Bobbitt Furnish Upsets in Junior Tourney

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 11.—(AP)—George Ball, chop stroke specialist from El Paso, Tex., and chunky little Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, Ga., scored sensational upset victories to enter the semi-final rounds of the national junior and boys' tennis championships Thursday.

Ball defeated William Seward of Beverly Hills, Calif., fourth ranking player in the junior division, 7-5, 6-2. Bobbitt won from Arthur Jorgensen, of Chicago, fourth ranking boy player of the country last year, 6-4, 6-3 in the boys' division.

Gene Mako, Los Angeles, Donald Budge, Oakland, Calif., and Jay Cohn of Chicago, also won matches Thursday to go into the semi-finals of the tournament. Budge had a hard time beating Ramsey Potts of Memphis, Tenn., 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

Mako did not lose a game in two sets to triumph over Ben Dey, a fellow townsman, while Cohn drubbed Gilbert Hunt of Washington, D. C., 6-1, 6-1.

Mako will play Ball Friday and Budge will oppose Cohn.

Robert Harmon, Oakland, Calif.; Charles Shostrom, Chicago; Robert Riggs, Los Angeles, entered the semi-finals in the boys' tourney along with Bobbitt. Harmon defeated Emil Colman of Houston, Tex., 6-3, 6-0; Shostrom defeated Warren Christner, Topeka, Kas., 6-2, 6-3; and Riggs won from Donald McNeil of Oklahoma City, 6-2, 6-3.

Harmon and Shostrom will clash Friday while Riggs and Bobbitt will meet.

Shreveport Team Rallies To Beat Ruston Nine, 4-1

RUSTON, Aug. 11.—(Special).—Featured by the heavy hitting of their pitcher, the Bogard Bears, of Shreveport, defeated the Ruston town team here Thursday afternoon by a 4 to 1 score. It was a close affair until the ninth inning when White, Bogard twirler, came to bat with three men on and got his third single of the game. Two men came in on the hit. The visitors tallied first in the fifth when Wilson doubled and scored on White's single. Then in the ninth, Waller was safe on an error, was advanced on Crowe's single and the bases were loaded when Prudhomme was passed. "No, Roger," replied the girl, "I cannot tell you everything—now. Some things I can tell nobody yet! You will have to trust me, blindly. But I will tell you what happened after you made me leap into space from that airplane, burning over the India mountains."

Tarzan had seen to it that plenty of fruits, nuts and plantains had been left within the boma. Chill night fell and while the British aviator made a fire, Olga, the spy, prepared food. Meanwhile, Tarzan of the Apes, returning from a successful hunt, paused in the branches of a great tree.

The ape-man shook his tousled head and sighed. A growl of anger even rose to his lips as he chafed over the fact that fate had thrust upon him these two humans. The man, he might have tolerated, but the girl—NEVER! He had contemplated leaving her to the jungle's mercy.

But that was before she had been instrumental in saving him from torture at the hands of the black Wambas. He hated the obligation she had placed upon him but no less did he acknowledge it. Suddenly he made his decision! At the same moment, Olga was unfolding her story to the man who loved her.

REDUCED UNIT IS LEFT TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION LAW

Two Justice Department Bureaus Affected By Consolidation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—A reduced prohibition unit of the division of investigation Friday went about enforcement of the Volstead law pending final decision by the states on repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Consolidation of the prohibition bureau and the bureau of investigation of the justice department placed enforcement under direction of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the division, with John S. Hurley, former assistant director of prohibition, as his assistant.

Details of the policy to be followed by the new division have not been announced, but Attorney General Cummings recently said the federal prohibition forces would continue enforcing the law. If the eighteenth amendment is repealed, he said the division would devote most of its attention to enforcing laws prohibiting shipment of liquor from wet to dry territory.

While it has been generally understood that about 600 employees of the old prohibition bureau had been dropped in the consolidation, justice department officials have declined to give the exact number or announce any of the details of the reorganization of the two bureaus until the return of the attorney general from his vacation next week.

NEGROES ON BOAT BATTLE FIERCELY

One Charges Other With Plotting to Kill Him; Accused Held

Charged with attempting to kill Curtis Tucker, negro, Archer Baker, negro, was arrested Friday by members of the sheriff's department and placed in the parish jail. Tucker alleged that Baker first attempted to poison him and then attempted to knock him in the head with a boat paddle and throw him in the Ouachita river at Bosco.

Following a desperate fight in which the two were alone in a boat, Tucker said he succeeded in subduing the other negro. They then rowed back to the bank together. Tucker's head was badly lacerated.

According to Tucker's story, Baker asked him to accompany him across the river Thursday night in a boat to visit a cousin. While they were crossing, Tucker was struck on the head with a paddle and "knocked kinda foolish." Baker then grabbed a jack and began striking him on the head with it, Tucker said. Despite the fact that he had been dazed, Tucker succeeded in getting possession of the jack and in making Baker quit for fear he would be thrown in the river. For several minutes each tried to throw the other out of the boat.

Prior to the boat ride, Baker had given Tucker sandwiches containing powdered glass, the latter charged. The sheriff's department was investigating this phase of the affair.

on the Hudson, the president was in buoyant spirits.

He put the sign of the "blue eagle" firmly over governmental supplies Thursday night. In an executive order he required the application of the new industrial code for shorter work hours and higher pay to all concerns which supply goods to the government. To tie up the manifold threads of the recovery drive more closely, he is returning Friday night to Washington.

Just now the modified reorganization of the government is going into effect and he also wants to supervise this.

The president leaves here Friday night by special train which will carry him beyond Washington into the Shenandoah valley of Virginia. From Harrisonburg or Luray he will leave the train Saturday to motor back to Washington by way of some of the civilian conservation corps camps. He expects to be in the White House before nightfall.

Meanwhile he is keeping close touch with troubled Cuba. There was every indication that something would break Friday.

After a week or ten days in Washington the president will return here to remain over Labor Day.

YACHT TRIP PLANNED BY PRES. ROOSEVELT

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(P)—Preparing for his departure Friday night for the capital, President Roosevelt announced Friday plans for a return here in another week and a cruise back to Washington at the end of the month aboard the yacht of Vincent Astor, the Nourmahal.

This is the same yacht which the president used on his cruise in southern waters just before his inauguration and he will have with him the same guests, including Mr. Astor. Mr. Roosevelt goes to Washington Friday night by train and by way of the Shenandoah valley in Virginia through which he will travel by motor to return to the White House Saturday.

He intends to leave Washington again on next Saturday for his home here and remain until about August 31 when he will board the Nourmahal for a trip expected to take him to the capital the day after Labor day.

Tax Notices Bring Renewal of Activity

Considerable response to notices calling attention to tax delinquencies has been received at the sheriff's office, it was stated Friday. Before the notices were sent out there had been a lull in collections, but payments were actively renewed following the mailing of the notices.

Real estate on which taxes for 1932 have not been paid will be advertised for sale on September 1, it was stated. Enforced collections of taxes on movable property will begin within a short time.

AUTOPSY LOOMS IN POISON CASE AT GREENWOOD

District Attorney Confers With Brother of Dead Doctor

GREENWOOD, Miss., Aug. 11.—(P)—District Attorney R. A. Jordan Friday considered holding an autopsy over the body of Dr. John P. Kennedy, for whose alleged death by poison his former woman medical associate, Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean, is held on a charge of murder.

The district attorney conferred Thursday in Jackson with Dr. Barney Kennedy, a dentist and brother of the dead man, and announced that he will determine within a few days if an autopsy will be held.

He also investigated a statement he obtained from a roomer at Dr. Kennedy's lodging house that the doctor received four telephone calls from a woman on the night he was poisoned and examined a letter signed "Ruth" which he said read, in part:

"I am leaving Greenwood soon and you ought to come to see me. You owe me a going away party."

Dr. Dean was arrested after Dr. Kennedy's death in a Jackson hospital last Sunday when the district attorney said he learned of a deathbed statement in which the doctor accused the woman of giving him poison in a drink of whiskey.

Witnesses told the district attorney that Dr. Kennedy, who was divorced from his wife several months ago, had been seen with Dr. Dean on a number of occasions. Relatives said that Dr. Kennedy had planned to remarry his divorced wife.

Dr. Dean has on several occasions consulted with her attorneys, but had refused to discuss the case pending her preliminary hearing.

Dr. Kennedy was quoted before his death that he quickly realized he had taken poison in a highball, and for five days attempted to fight its effects through self-treatment. Realizing through his medical knowledge that it would be fatal, he called in other physicians and was taken to Jackson.

NEWSPAPER CODE UNSATISFACTORY

Portions of Program Do Not Meet With Johnson's Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, Friday said there were "proposals which are unsatisfactory" in the proposed code of hours and wages submitted by the American Newspaper Publishers association.

Johnson declined at a press conference to intimate what section he considered objectionable, but said the publishers' representatives were due at his office some time Friday to talk over the program.

Informed of the acceptance by a number of newspapers of the provisions of A. N. P. A. program, Johnson said, "There can not be a code until it is approved after a hearing."

Those who sign the blanket reemployment agreement will be the only ones immediately entitled to the blue eagle signifying adherence to the recovery program.

It has been intimated in sources close to Johnson that he feels there are too many reservations in the newspaper code and that he objects to its failure to specify short hours for reporters and copy editors.

Natchez Minister To Speak At Church Here

Rev. George D. Booth, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Natchez, Miss., will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The service will begin at 11 o'clock. Mr. Booth was for five years pastor of the Monroe church before going to Natchez, where he has been located for the past fifteen years. He is well known throughout Northeast Louisiana as a brilliant speaker and a devoted minister. A large attendance is expected at the local church Sunday morning to hear him.

Former Dry Informer Is Arrested After Battle

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11.—(P)—Paul Duplessis, said by police to have once been an informer for the prohibition department, was arrested at his home here Friday shortly after a gun battle in front of a Lizardi street residence occupied by Richard A. Vaughan, 47-year-old trapper and fisherman.

Vaughan reported the battle to police. Charging that four men who claimed to be officers had attempted to force an entrance into his home and that he had opened fire on them. He said he thought one of the four had been wounded in an exchange of pistol fire. Vaughan, told police he believed the group were trying to "hi-jack" his residence on belief that he had liquor there.

Duplessis was arrested when officers found his blood-stained car near the scene. He denied any knowledge of the affair.

Despondent Ex-Officer Takes Life With Pistol

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 11.—(P)—J. P. Huddleston, 63, peace officer for 35 years until the recent change of state administration, sat down against a tree in a park here Friday and shot himself through the right temple with the .45 caliber pistol he had carried during that long period of law enforcement. He died instantly.

His son-in-law, Bryce L. Twitty, said Huddleston had been despondent since he was released as a Texas ranger after the inauguration of the present governor.

FORMER CONVICT IS BEING SOUGHT IN OHIO SLAYING

Tennessee and Mississippi Officers Hunt Pal of Slayer

MERIDIAN, Miss., Aug. 11.—(P)—Tennessee and Mississippi officers Friday hunted an unidentified ex-convict from Ohio as companion in flight to 16-year-old John H. Henkel, arrested in the slaying of Oliver S. Baily, 27, of Cincinnati, while District Attorney Aubert Dunn expressed belief "there is more to this story than has been told."

Henkel, arrested here in Baily's car and returned to Cincinnati, was quoted by officers as saying he killed Baily because he made "an immoral approach" to him. Dunn said he doubted that such was the motive and officers declared they believed accomplices were involved in the case.

A search of the Baily car disclosed a rough map of the scene where he was killed similar to one found where the slaying occurred. Henkel said here a hitch hiker had accompanied him on a part of his trip southward but statements by Henkel's mother that he left Cincinnati with a friend she knew as "Tommy" led to the other theory.

District Attorney Dunn, without disclosing the name, announced Mississippi and Tennessee authorities had been asked to hunt for a former inmate of the Chillicothe, O., reformatory who had a family in Meridian.

Shreveport Preacher Asks For Enactment Of Local Option Laws

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 11.—(P)—Rev. A. W. Turner, legislative director of the Louisiana Prohibition League, Friday wired Governor O. K. Allen as follows:

"In the call for a special session of the Louisiana legislature, will you please provide for the legislature to pass such local option laws as may seem best for the protection of dry territory from the sale of intoxicating liquors."

In discussing the message Dr. Turner said he wanted all citizens who are interested to communicate with Governor Allen at once and add their request for an opportunity to have the legislature act on the measures suggested. He especially urged that all sheriffs and district attorneys get in touch with the chief executive. "I believe that a fair presentation of the matter to Governor Allen will be given careful consideration," said Dr. Turner, "and that there will be a satisfactory response."

Two Justice Department Bureaus Affected By Consolidation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—A reduced prohibition unit of the division of investigation Friday went about enforcement of the Volstead law pending final decision by the states on repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Consolidation of the prohibition bureau and the bureau of investigation of the justice department placed enforcement under direction of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the division, with John S. Hurley, former assistant director of prohibition, as his assistant. Details of the policy to be followed by the new division have not been announced, but Attorney General Cummings recently said the federal prohibition forces would continue enforcing the law. If the eighteenth amendment is repealed, he said the division would devote most of its attention to enforcing laws prohibiting shipment of liquor from wet to dry territory.

While it has been generally understood that about 600 employees of the old prohibition bureau had been dropped in the consolidation, justice department officials have declined to give the exact number or announce any of the details of the reorganization of the two bureaus until the return of the attorney general from his vacation next week.

NEGROES ON BOAT BATTLE FIERCELY

One Charges Other With Plotting to Kill Him; Accused Held

Charged with attempting to kill Curtis Tucker, negro, Archer Baker, negro, was arrested Friday by members of the sheriff's department and placed in the parish jail. Tucker alleged that Baker first attempted to poison him and then attempted to knock him in the head with a boat paddle and throw him in the Ouachita river at Bosco.

Following a desperate fight in which the two were alone in a boat, Tucker said he succeeded in subduing the other negro. They then rowed back to the bank together. Tucker's head was badly lacerated.

According to Tucker's story, Baker asked him to accompany him across the river Thursday night in a boat to visit a cousin. While they were crossing, Tucker was struck on the head with a paddle and "knocked kinda foolish." Baker then grabbed the jack and began striking him on the head with it, Tucker said. Despite the fact that he had been dazed, Tucker succeeded in getting possession of the jack and in making Baker quit for fear he would be thrown in the river. For several minutes each tried to throw the other out of the boat.

Prior to the boat ride, Baker had given Tucker sandwiches containing powdered glass, the latter charged. The sheriff's department was investigating this phase of the affair.

PROGRAM CALLS FOR FOUR-POINT ECONOMIC MOVE

on the Hudson, the president was in buoyant spirits.

He put the sign of the "blue eagle" firmly over governmental supplies Thursday night. In an executive order he required the application of the new industrial code for shorter work hours and higher pay to all concerns which supply goods to the government. To tie up the manifold threads of the recovery drive more closely, he is returning Friday night to Washington.

Just now the modified reorganization of the government is going into effect and he also wants to supervise this.

The president leaves here Friday night by special train which will carry him beyond Washington into the Shenandoah valley of Virginia. From Harrisonburg or Luray he will leave the train Saturday to motor back to Washington by way of some of the civilian conservation corps camps. He expects to be in the White House before nightfall.

Meanwhile he is keeping close touch with troubled Cuba. There was every indication that something would break Friday.

After a week or ten days in Washington the president will return here to remain over Labor Day.

YACHT TRIP PLANNED BY PRES. ROOSEVELT

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(P)—Preparing for his departure Friday night for the capital, President Roosevelt announced Friday plans for a return here in another week and a cruise back to Washington at the end of the month aboard the yacht of the Missouri Pacific train and was taken directly to the Jewish cemetery, where interment was made. Services were conducted by Rabbi F. K. Hirsch.

This is the same yacht which the president used on his cruise in southern waters just before his inauguration and he will have with him the same guests, including Mr. Astor.

Mr. Roosevelt goes to Washington Friday night by train and by way of the Shenandoah valley in Virginia through which he will travel by motor to return to the White House Saturday.

He intends to leave Washington again on next Saturday for his home here and remain until about August 31 when he will board the Nourmahal for a trip expected to take him to the capital the day after Labor day.

Tax Notices Bring Renewal of Activity

Considerable response to notices calling attention to tax delinquencies has been received at the sheriff's office, it was stated Friday. Before the notices were sent out there had been a lull in collections, but payments were actively renewed following the mailing of the notices.

Real estate on which taxes for 1932 have not been paid will be advertised for sale on September 1, it was stated. Enforced collections of taxes on movable property will begin within a short time.

AUTOPSY LOOMS IN POISON CASE AT GREENWOOD

District Attorney Confers With Brother of Dead Doctor

GREENWOOD, Miss., Aug. 11.—(P)—District Attorney R. A. Jordan Friday considered holding an autopsy over the body of Dr. John P. Kennedy, for whose alleged death by poison his former woman medical associate, Dr. Sarah Ruth Dean, is held on a charge of murder.

The district attorney conferred Thursday in Jackson with Dr. Barney Kennedy, a dentist and brother of the dead man, and announced that he will determine within a few days if an autopsy will be held.

He also investigated a statement he obtained from a roomer at Dr. Kennedy's lodging house that the doctor received four telephone calls from a woman on the night he was poisoned and examined a letter signed "Ruth" which he said read, in part:

"I am leaving Greenwood soon and you ought to come to see me. You owe me a going away party."

Dr. Dean was arrested after Dr. Kennedy's death in a Jackson hospital last Sunday when the district attorney said he learned of a death-bed statement in which the doctor accused the woman of giving him poison in a drink of whiskey.

Witnesses told the district attorney that Dr. Kennedy, who was divorced from his wife several months ago, had been seen with Dr. Dean on a number of occasions. Relatives said that Dr. Kennedy had planned to remarry his divorced wife.

Dr. Dean has on several occasions consulted with her attorneys, but had refused to discuss the case pending her preliminary hearing.

Dr. Kennedy was quoted before his death that he quickly realized he had taken poison in a highball, and for five days attempted to fight its effects through self-treatment. Realizing through his medical knowledge that it would be fatal, he called in other physicians and was taken to Jackson.

NEWSPAPER CODE UNSATISFACTORY

Portions of Program Do Not Meet With Johnson's Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(P)—Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, Friday said there were "proposals which are unsatisfactory" in the proposed code of hours and wages submitted by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Johnson declined at a press conference to intimate what section he considered objectionable, but said the publishers' representatives were due at his office some time Friday to talk over the program.

Informed of the acceptance by a number of newspapers of the provisions of A. N. P. A. program, Johnson said, "There can not be a code until it is approved after a hearing."

Those who sign the blanket re-employment agreement will be the only ones immediately entitled to the blue eagle signifying adherence to the recovery program.

It has been intimated in sources close to Johnson that he feels there are too many reservations in the newspaper code and that he objects to its failure to specify short hours for reporters and copy editors.
